What came after? Understanding the connection to today

Objectives:

- I can list the events that happened right after my event happened
- I can analyze how my event changed things right after and long after it happened.
- I can make connections between my event to the world today
- I can prove that my event is still important today.

Task:

Use at least two sources and take at least three pages of Cornell notes on what came AFTER your event.

Here are some questions to help you (you can also make up your own questions):

Note: Not all these questions will apply to each topic.

What happened right after your event (hours, weeks or months after)

- What did people do next?
- How did people (the media, the government, etc.) react to the event?
- What happened in the years after your event happened?
- What were the positive and negative consequences of the event right after it happened and long after it happened?
- How did things change because of the event? (in the country/ city / area / world)
- What is different NOW, today, because of the event? (your topic)
- Why is it important today? Why should people care about it or learn about it?
- Why do people remember the event today?

Notes:

NOTE HERE the sources used for these notes: note the title, author and what type of source (primary or secondary, book, article, etc). ALL information you write on this page should be linked to a source! Then, put the source information into Easy Bib to format your official bibliography.

Summary: Look through your AFTER notes and write a two paragraph summary.

Paragraph one: Look through your notes. Summarize here the most important details of what happened RIGHT AFTER your event (1-10 years after).
